ECONOMICS

Labor Force

Every year, the Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS) collects data on the size and employment status of the labor force in Hastings. As shown in Table III.11.5, on the following page, the labor force, defined as people working or seeking work, persons between 1990 and 2015, to 13,194 persons. Between 2014 and 2015, the total labor force decreased by 11 individuals. Between 2014 and 2015 the number of people working increased by 6 persons. This translated to a decrease in the unemployment rate from 3.2 percent in 2014 to 3.1 percent in 2015.

Housing Development

Annually, the Census Bureau reports for each city the number and valuation of building permits issued by permit-issuing agencies.<sup>40</sup> In most years for which data are presented, single-family unit construction represented the majority of residential development in the city, with single-family building permit authorizations in Hastings numbering 0 in 1980, 0 in 1990, 0 in 2000, and 26 in 2008. Between 2014 and 2015, single-family permits decreased to 35 units. Additional details of permit activity and per-unit valuations are shown below in Table III.11.6.

<sup>40</sup> Permits do not necessarily translate into a precise and full count of housing production. Some dwellings permitted are never constructed. As well, some dwellings may be built in areas that lack a building permitting process, have a lax permitting process, or have insufficient oversight of construction activity.

As shown in Diagram III.11.2, below, the average value of newly constructed single-family units in 2000 was $0, $25,293 in 2005, and $221,984 in 2010. In 2015, the value of single family units rose to $216,958 from $204,627 in 2014.

The 2015 five-year ACS released data on the vacancy and tenure of housing units in Hastings. As shown in Table III.11.7, below, 6.0 percent, or 650 housing units were vacant in 2015. Of the 10,154 housing units that were occupied in 2015, 66.1 percent, or 6,707 units, were owner-occupied, and the remaining 33.9 percent were renter-occupied. This compares to 10,110 housing units that were occupied in 2010 with 6,452 units, or 63.8 percent, being owner-occupied, and the remaining 36.2 percent being renter-occupied.

Rental Property Survey

From September through November of 2016, a telephone survey was conducted with landlords and rental property managers throughout Nebraska. Table III.11.10 presents basic statistics about the completed surveys from this and other surveys conducted from 2002 through 2016 in the City of Hastings. The number of completed surveys decreased from 49 in 2015 to 46 in 2016. Between 2015 and 2016 the vacancy rate for all units increased by .6 percentage points and was at 3.1 percent in 2016.

Table III.11.11 below, shows the amount of total and vacant units with their associated vacancy rates. At the time of the survey, there were an estimated 192 single family units in City of Hastings, with 7 of them available. This translates into a vacancy rate of 3.6 percent in City of Hastings, which compares to a single family vacancy rate of 3.6 percent for the State of Nebraska. There were 1,423 apartment units reported in the survey, with 44 of them available, which resulted in a vacancy rate of 3.1 percent. This compares to a statewide vacancy rate of 4.1 percent for apartment units across the state. The average vacancy rate for all unit types over the last five years was 2.6 percent.

Local Commentary

Hastings is the county seat of Adams County. The largest employers in the city are in healthcare and education; a hospital employs 950 people, and there are two colleges as well as the public school system. However, manufacturing is the primary growth industry for Hastings, with many industrial and agricultural processing plants that employ hundreds of employees.

There have been a few new retail and restaurant establishments that have opened in the past year. The economy has been stable and employment has been steady. Cimarron Plaza which changed ownership is doing very well. Enrollment in Hastings College is holding steady and the community college is growing. The Career Pathways program has been very successful and there are talks of expanding the program onto different types of fields such as nursing and more technology oriented jobs. There is still a need for more housing for all income levels including some high end. There is currently a two projects for low- to moderate income housing underway. Manufacturing companies are currently in the process of expanding into the Hastings area, which will bring in more jobs, but the city is always looking for more businesses to come into the area. <sup>41</sup>
